Additional

In extenuating circumstances and with the support of their career's advisor, compact applicants who feel they would benefit from a lower offer can request that a lower offer is made. The request needs to be made at least two weeks prior to their application being submitted and careers advisors/teachers must feel that the student can succeed at higher education but may not currently be achieving at the level expected.

These circumstances may be related to health, bereavement or other challenging personal circumstances such as being in care or a young carer or estranged from parents/family etc. or similar. We are very happy to discuss individual cases, as appropriate.

These requests can be sent to compact@chi.ac.uk, please include contact details for your teacher/career's advisor.
